

Global Code of Conduct, Anti-Corruption, and Whistleblower Protection

Policy No. COMP-POL-201 · Version 5.0 · Effective January 1, 2026 · Owner: Chief Compliance Officer

1. Code of Conduct and Core Principles

Cymbal Corp conducts business under unwavering ethical standards. Every director, officer, and employee must observe strict compliance with applicable laws, including the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA), the UK Bribery Act 2010, and OECD anti-corruption conventions across all territories in which we operate.

2. Anti-Bribery, Gifts, and Hospitality Thresholds

No employee or third-party agent acting on Cymbal's behalf may offer, solicit, or accept bribes, kickbacks, or inappropriate inducements. Modest business gifts and customary hospitality are permissible strictly within defined monetary thresholds:

Gift / Courtesy Category	Permissible Value Limit	Approval & Disclosure Rule	Compliance Requirement
Customary Promotional Items	Under $100 per gift	No prior approval required	Branded pens, notepads, mugs
Business Meals & Dining	Up to $150 per person	Substantiated in Concur expense	Direct business purpose only
Gifts Valued $100 to $250	$100 to $250 aggregate	Mandatory filing via Form ETH-101	Written approval from VP
Gifts Exceeding $250	STRICTLY PROHIBITED	Must be politely declined	Surrender to charity raffle
Gifts to Government Officials	$0.00 (Zero Tolerance)	Strict pre-clearance by Legal	Immediate FCPA liability risk

3. Annual Conflict of Interest Disclosure (Form COI-202)

All employees must avoid situations where personal interests conflict with Cymbal's business obligations. Every January, employees must complete the Annual Conflict of Interest Disclosure (Form COI-202) covering outside employment, advisory board seats, family ties to suppliers, and ownership stakes (>0.5%) in competing or partnering enterprises.

4. Global Whistleblower Reporting Channels

Employees who witness or suspect fraud, accounting irregularities, harassment, bribery, or security violations are obligated to report them promptly through confidential channels managed by an independent third party (EthicsPoint):

Channel Type	Contact Address / Number	Availability & Security Features
24/7 Ethics Hotline	1-800-461-9330 (US) / +1-720-514-4400	Toll-free, multilingual operators, 100% anonymous
Secure Web Intake Portal	https://ethics.cymbal.internal	Encrypted intake, untracked IP logging
Direct Compliance Email	ethics-reporting@cymbal.com	Routed exclusively to Chief Compliance Officer
Audit Committee Mailbox	audit-committee@cymbal.com	Direct escalation for financial/executive misconduct

5. Absolute Non-Retaliation Guarantee

Cymbal strictly prohibits retaliation of any kind against an employee who reports a suspected violation in good faith or cooperates with an investigation. Any supervisor or colleague found engaging in retaliatory behavior (including termination, demotion, hostile behavior, or subtle performance downgrades) will face summary dismissal for cause and potential personal civil liability.

6. Investigation Cadence and Governance

All reports receive preliminary triage within 48 hours. Investigations are conducted under attorney-client privilege by Internal Audit and Legal, with formal resolution summaries submitted quarterly to the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors.
